

Where the Wild Things Are Adam Beehre

Adam Beehre, explores nature by creating fictional environments constructed through the use of plant species with found materials; purposely challenging the perception of this new created reality. The associations of his constructed environments discretely question the concept of deforestation issues, a significant issue of concern that is currently surfacing in Australia.

George Paton Gallery Exhibition Archive 2017
3: 22 March—31 March