

Threshold

Mary Sutherland / Frances Murrell

20 / 30 April 2004

The edge, threshold or border is where hidden stimuli become perceptible. Mary Sutherland preserves, obscures and encases painted images, drawings and found materials in wax; exploring light, air, space and openness of mind. Frances Murrell creates a labyrinth of small jottings, ideas and images that work together to create a whole.

Opening night: Wednesday 21 April, 5/7pm
