

REAR GALLERY

A croissant tray is only a croissant tray until you look a third time

Hoi Ni Jess Chow, Freja Innes-Ker and Mikaela McBain

How do you look at your everyday life? How do you take notice of colours, shapes and materials around you? We want to encourage you in this exhibition to re-explore your surroundings. To give examples of how you could look at things past their perceived functions. A practice in looking.

Documentation by Astrid Mulder