We can see the power in numbers ...

... as our community grows in Australia. Many of us are emerging from lockdown with more questions and an urgency to find solutions, so the need for Guardian Australia has never been greater. More of you are turning to our open, independent journalism each and every day. But this is the paradox of the pandemic: we are reaching more people than ever, yet the revenue we receive from advertising continues to fall dramatically. We need your help to fill the gap.

The crises we've experienced in 2020 have underlined why factual information is indispensable. We believe everyone deserves access to it, and analysis that has authority and integrity. Guardian Australia has high editorial standards, providing accurate, reliable news that holds firm against the spread of misinformation and sensationalism. Your support is crucial to what we do and it sustains us so, unlike many others, we can keep our journalism open to all.

As an independent news organisation we investigate, interrogate and expose the actions of those in power, without fear. With no shareholders or billionaire owner, our journalism is free from political and commercial bias - this makes us different. We can give a voice to the oppressed and neglected, and stand in solidarity with those who are calling for a fairer future. With your help we can make a difference.

You've read 77 articles What's this? We would like to remind you how many Guardian articles you've enjoyed on this device. Can we continue showing you this? Yes, that's OK No, opt me out Please note you cannot undo this action or opt back in in the last six months. And you're not alone; one in three people in Australia have read the Guardian in the last year, and we want to grow further.

Do something powerful today and help us reach our ambitious goal of 150,000 supporters in Australia. Every contribution, however big or small, has a lasting impact and helps assure our future. From as little as $1 you can show your support for our work. Thank you.
